An Offbeat Sahyadri Trek You Can't Miss – Open Only for One Month

If you're looking for a raw wilderness experience away from the usual crowded trails, this trek is for you. From ancient forts to hidden caves, wildflowers to starry skies, this journey offers everything a true trekker dreams of.

This exclusive range trek connects Bhairavgad (Shirpunje) to Ratangad, covering some of the most untouched landscapes of the Sahyadris. Starting from the 2,500-year-old Bhairavgad Fort, we move through rugged mountain passes and climb the longest continuous ladder in the Sahyadris at Ghanchakkar. The trail then leads us through Gawaldev and Muda, past ancient shepherd caves, and up to Katrabai peak before reaching the jewel of the Sahyadris, Ratangad Fort. The trek finally winds down to the forest village of Samrad.

Along the route, trekkers will:

- Witness rare wildflowers blooming across forest trails
- Have chances to spot leopards, vultures, and other wildlife
- Learn camping skills like pitching tents and cooking in the outdoors
- Share and enjoy local food together in the wilderness

- Walk along ridges with views of Bhandardara Lake and the surrounding peaks
